The former EastEnders star had been on the breakfast show to talk about her new role as Rizzo in musical Grease, where she stars alongside her former co-star on The Jump, Tom Parker.

The Wanted's Tom plays Danny Zuko in the same production and Lorraine had asked Louisa whether there is romance blossoming between the pair.

BUT fans will know Tom is actually engaged and has been dating his fiancée Kelsey Hardwick since 2009.

He had popped the question in March last year.

Louisa had told Lorraine she was pleased to have Tom starring alongside in Grease.

She explained the pair had struck up a great friendship while filming The Jump last year, prompting Lorraine to ask whether there was any romance between the pals.

Taken aback, Louisa insisted there isn't.

"No not at all," she replied, admitting: "That threw me."

The actress went on to say she and Tom had "bonded so well" but "that was it".

She added that she was looking forward to hitting the road with Tom when Grease goes on tour from March.

Given that Tom is in a relationship, fans were quick to comment on Twitter.

One viewer also picked up on the fact Lorraine had told 28 year old Louisa that she looked like a child and tweeted: "Can't believe @ITVLorraine just asked @louisalytton if she's with/fancies @TomParker and then told her she looks like a child! #awkward."

Another added: "Talk about a curve ball in an interview!! Very well handled though!"

Neither Tom or his partner Kelsey have commented on Lorraine's questioning - it comes just a day after Tom revealed he is postponing his wedding to Kelsey, so he can perform in Grease.

Tom had revealed in the press: "We want to make sure we plan it right and I don't want to take two weeks off, get married, do a week on honeymoon, then get back on tour.

"I didn't think that was something I'd be comfortable with, so next year we'll have a big wedding."

Kelsey, meanwhile, has been supporting Tom in his new role - his first appearance in musical.

She uploaded a video of herself and Tom dancing together on Instagram and added the caption: "Saturday Night Dance Rehearsals.. Helping my Danny out.. P.S On the first take he dropped me @tomparkerofficial #Greaseistheword."
